Finding Community & Connection in Your Own Front Yard:
A New View of Evangelization

Kristin Schell is the originator of a movement that connects neighbor to neighbor. Her effort has become known as the Turquoise Table, and it is spreading across the country. Kristin will be presenting our PDCC on Thursday, June 15. In her presentation she will explore the origins of her efforts, the “ibasket” she keeps on her table, the difference between hospitality and entertaining, and many other learnings that have come from this surprisingly simple idea.

Date of Call:

6/15/2017

Time of Call:

1:00 pm Eastern

-12:00 Central

-11:00 Mountain

-10:00 Pacific

Kristin Schell is an established speaker and blogger on the subjects of food, faith, and hospitality. As founder of the Turquoise Table and Front Yard People movement, Kristin travels the country speaking at conferences and events with an encouraging word on how to open our lives and homes to others. She lives in Austin, Texas, with her husband, Tony, and their four children. Kristin and the Turquoise Table has been featured in a wide variety of media outlets including The Today Show, the Austin American-Statesman, KEYE-TV/CBS Austin, MOPS International.
