

“Welcoming the Divorced and Single Parents of Your Community”

These are audiences we cannot ignore in our community. Their numbers are increasing each year. Who do we define as fitting into this demographic? What stereotypes have we created within ourselves? Have you assessed your community to determine the reach? How should we evaluate our messaging in the parish and diocese to make them feel welcomed and loved? What are common mistakes? What are best practices that you can incorporate today to make a difference in the way you minister to this audience?

Jo Holt is married and a mother of three children, and is the Director of Marriage & Family Life at St. Thomas More Catholic Parish in the Archdiocese of Denver. In 2012 she founded Raised in Faith, with the mission of empowering the faithful to be disciples and bridging the gap between the Church and the marginalized. She has been a consultant and speaker on evangelization and family life issues within the diocese and across the country, recently publishing “Single & Raising Saints” to support single parents, and is currently working on a discipleship aid for the faithful.
